A RESTRAINING ORDER. The Federal Court to Interfere in the

sociated Press Leased-wire Service OMAHA (Neb..) May 28.—If troops are sent to Pender in an attempt to inter-fere with the tenants of the Flournoy Real Estate and Live Stock Company they will be restrained by the Federal Court. This is the sentiment declared today by John F. Myers of Pender, secretary of the Flournoy Company, who ar rived in Omaha today. He says posirived in Omaha today. He says positively that a restraining order from the Federal Court will face the Federal soldiers. He asserts that he has positive information that the courts will compel the Indian Agent, Capt. Beck, and the Interior Department to wait until the matters at issue are adjudicated by civil process.

The indictment of Sheriff Mullin has widened the breach between the county officers and Indian police at Pender, and it is thought quite likely that the next attempt made by Capt. Beck to evict tenants will result in a trip of Sheriff Mullin and a posse to Winnebago agency with the avowed object of placing the Indian agent under arrest.

LANCASTER (Ky...) May 28.—A most extraordinary suit and the only one of its kind ever recorded in Kentucky was filed in the Circuit Court here today. It is for breach of promise, and the plaintiff is W. C. Stivers, a well-known tobacco-raiser. The detendant is Miss Catherine West, a

The defendant is Miss Catherine West, a handsome schoolteacher, 23 years of age.

Stivers has been a widower for several years. In his petition he alleges that Miss West has repeatedly promised to become his wife, and the day for the marriage has been set, but she declined to wed him. Stivens says he has been greatly worried, annoyed and humiliated and damaged in the sum of $5000, and prays for judgment against the defendant for damages in that sum.

John Sherman as Chairman Makes Comprehensive Address — The Use of Gold and Silver is Indorsed.

ZANESVILLE (O.,) May 28.—The nomination for Governor by the Ohio State Republican Convention of Asa S. Bushconcentrate on Bushnell, and their op-ponents remained divided. Ex-Gov. Foraker, on his arrival at noon, made several speeches, in which he compli-mented all the gubernatorial candidates, but he worked for Bushnell, while Sherman. Foster and other leaders opposed the favorite. Hoyt and Nash made bril-liant speeches and were on the ground hustling, while Gen. Bushnell remained at his home in Springfield. Gen. CONVENTION PROCEEDINGS.

ZANESVILLE. (0..) May 28.—The Republican State Convention was called to order here today promptly at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Col. Joseph C. Bonner, chairman of the State Committee. A half-hour previous the hall was packed to its full capacity of 5000, and many were unable to gain admittance. Senator Sherman was given a sthring ovation when he was was given a stirring ovation when he was escorted in to the hall at 3:50 o'clock by escorted in to the hall at 3:50 o'check by Congressman Voorbies and Judge Granger. Ex-Secretary Foster, the mem-bers of Congress, several candidates and others were cheered as they entered. Among the working delegates were Her-man G. Denison, son of the war Governor, and Harry Garfield, son of the murdered Prestdent.

President.

While Chairman Bonner, who is a member of McKinley's staff, was eloquently congratulating the Republicans on the result of the last Ohio election and forecasting another trumph for heat November in his introductory speech, ex-Gov. Forsker entered the hall, and a very bots terrous demenstration followed his appearterous demonstration followed his appearance. After Chairman Bonner had made repeated efforts to secure order and proed with his introductory remarks, Gov. Foraker came to the front of the platform and said:

you will not any longer disturb the you will not any longer disturb the deliberations of the convention. There will be time for us all to be heard before we leave Zanesville. (More shouting than previously.) It is a good town to stay over might do, and we will stay just as long as our business may require. At the proper time, when that will be in order, I will be very glad, indeed, to exchange greetings with you, but I beg for the present that you will let the chairman of the Central Committee proceed with his speech in order to excedite the business of the convenience.

trime, when that will be in order, I wan be very glad, indeed, to exchange greetings with you, but I beg for the present that you will let the chairman of the Central Committee proceed with his speech in order to expedite the business of the convention." (Great applause.)

Even after this appeal it was with great difficulty that Col. Bonner concluded his remarks and introduced Senator John Sherman as the temporary chairman. Senator Sherman met the demonstrations at first with the remark that he hoped to see the Republicans of Ohio keep up such a pitch of enthusiasm until the next November election. The Senator soon commanded the closest attention, and spoke as follows:

Gentlemen of the Convention: I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me in selecting me to preside over this convention. You have met to designate the next Governor of the State of Ohio. You have a good many candidates before you, but each one is worthy of the highest honor you can center. You have the assurances that whoever you may nominate will have the hearty support of all the candidates and of each member of the convention. You have also to select several of the chief executive officers of this State. I need not impress upon you the importance of selecting those who will thonestly and faithfully perform the duties assigned them.

You have a still higher duty: To announce the principles and policy of the Republican party in the State of Ohio and in the United States. What you will say here will have an important influence beyond the limits of your State, for the intelligent action of the Republicans of Ohio, will, as in the past, indicate the opinions of the Republicans in all parts of the United States. We fiave a common faith and creed. We act together on great matters on principle, on small matters for discipline. The primary and fundamental sentiments of the Republican party is love for our country, our whole country. We are for the Union, one and indivisible, now and forever. The Republicans of Ohio are not provincial, but na standard-bearer: Our soldiers fought for it under Grant, Sherman and Sheridan.

The soldiers of Ohio carried our flag in every great battle of the war for the preservation of the Union. Other particular citizens and soldiers were equally deserving of honor and praise, but they could not carry their party with them. When Grant was in the wilderness, and Sherman was before Atlanta, a great party declared the war a failure. Ours made it a success. When the war was over, we did not treat our enemies as conquered subjects, but as erring brothers. We invited them back into the Union with unabridged powers, prescribing only one condition—that there should be no slaves in our country. We now meet them and greet as friends, and, turning our back on dead issues, we congratulate them on their prosperity, which they did not and could not have in their condition prior to the war.

When the war was over the Republican party developed its civil policy. First of all it declared its purpose to pay every debt or obligation contracted during or since the war, that the public faith should be unblemished. This promise has been performed. In spite of the temptation and the shrieks of Populists, we have discharged every obligation contracted during the war, and especially the highest death of pensioners, a fate that awaits us all.

We are in favor of a protective tariff. We had such a tariff. While it was in force we had prosperity, good times and money in plenty. We had so diversified our domestic industries that American labor and American capital supplied nearly all the wants of the American people. We prefer to tax foreign production rather than our own. We believe that the policy of protection should be extended to all productions impartially, to labor ou the farm, as well as in the workshops. We are opposed to the Democratic policy of protecting woolen manufactures and admitting wool free of duty. We denounce a scheme of taxation which annually increases the public debt more than $50,000,000. This is the result of Democratic ascendency. The tariff law of the last Congress is partly a copy of the McKinley law and generally a failure. All that is good of it was taken from the McKinley tariff, and the rest of it is confessedly a hotch-potch. The Supreme Court has already disposed of part of it.

All the productions of the South from peanuts to whisky are carefully protected, while the duties on the great staple in thus tries of the North are largely reduced, and on some articles, like wool, are entirely repealed. We demand a reform in the tariff, not to promote sectional interests, but to secure ample revenue and impartial protection to domestic industry. This we can have only by the election of a Republican President. We want a impartial protection to domestic industry. This we can have only by the election of a Republican President. We want a change, and for this change we will have the hearty support of a large part of the Democratic party. We are in favor of a sound national currency, always redeemable in coin. All forms of money should be of equal purchasing power. For fourteen years after the resumption of specie payments, while the Republican party was in power, we had such a currency. We had gold, silver and paper money, all bearing the stamp and sanction of the United States, of unquestionaed credit and of equal value, passing current not only within the United States, but in all parts of the gold and silver are indispensable.

Both gold and silver are indispensable for use in the varied wants of mankind. Gold is now, and has been for ages, the chief measure of value in international commerce and the larger transactions of commerce and the larger transactions of domestic exchanges. Silver, from its bulk and weight, is not available for large payments either at home or abroad, but it is indispensable for the minor wants of mankind. Gold, from its greatly superior value, cannot be used for such purposer. Therefore it is that both metals have been coined into money at a fixed ratio. The enormous increase of production of silver in the United States, Mexico and Australia has disturbed this ratio and has lowered the market value of either precisely as a like increase of production has lowered the price of other commodities. It is a universal law that price or value is measured by quantity.

cisely as a like increase of production has lowered the price of other crimodities. It is a universal law that price or value is measured by quantity.

Under these conditions the railroad and proper course would be a change of ratio, but this can only be effected as to these two metals by a concert of action among commercial nations. Until this can be accomplished the only logical way is for each nation to coin both metals and maintain the coinage of the cheaper metal at par by limitation of amount and redemption when in excess of the demand for it. Such is now the policy of the United States and of every great commercial nation, including every country in Europe. Other nations adopt the silver standard alone, not from choice, but from powerty. I believe that the policy of the United States adopted in 1853, of cothing fractional silver coins in limited quantities from silver buillion purchased at the market price and making them legal-tender for small sums, is the only way to preserve the parity of gold and silver coins at a fixed ratio. This is properly called bimetallic money. I hope and believe that the common interest of commercial nations will lead them, through an international commission, to either adopt a ratio based on the market value of the metals or to doin them and maintain them, as we do, at their present ratio.

The policy now urged by the producers of silver and by men who wish to pay their debts in cheaper money than they promised to pay, is the free coinage of silver. This means the single estandard of silver and the demonetization of gold. This is the only monometallic system. It is the degradation of our dollar to 50 cents. If applied to our national bonds it is a repudiation of one-half of the public debt. It is the repudiation of our dollar to for the transport of any kind, whether of the farm, the workshop or the mine, for if they get nominally more dollars for their production their additional dollars would have only one-half the purchasing power of the gold dollars. WASHINGTON, May 23. — Washington was hardly prepared for the announcement of the death of Secretary of State Waiter Q. Gresham, which occurred at such a late hour last night that it was not known to the public until read in the morning papers today, for although the fatal termination of the serious illness had been forecasted, there was no general nan been torecased, there was no general apprehension that the end would come so zoon. Flags were lowered to half-mast on all public buildings, and many business houses. Official business was for the time laid saide by the higher officers of the government, and the members of all official circles, together with prominent peo-ple in private life, hastened to the Arling-ton Hotel, where the Gresbams have made their home in this city, to leave their cards and messages of condolence.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland called during the morning, and were for half an hour with Mrs. Andrews, the daughter of the dead man, and Otto Gresham, the son, Afterward the President and several memhers of the Cabinet held a conference at the White House to consider the arrange-ment for the funeral, and later in the day the President issued a proclamation pay-ing a warm tribute to the character of his late Secretary of State. it is at present the intention to follow the precedent as in the IWndom-case, there must be one important departure, and that is the omission of all signs of mourning with which the great executive department buildings were draped for thirty days. In the Legislative, Executive decertment buildings were draped for thirty days. In the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Act, approved March 3, 1893, Congress provided: "That hereafter no building owned or used for public purposes by the government of the United States shall be draped in mourning, and no part of the public fund shall be used for such purposes."

Two years before this, in the act approved February 16, 1891, Congress had chanced the law affecting the succession to such an office as is now vacated by the death of Secretary Gresham, so as to read: "A vacancy occasioned by death or resignation must be temporarily filled (under the three preceding sections) for mo longer period than thirty days." The old law bad limited the duration of a temporary appointment in such cases to ten days, but the President may now designate Assistant Secretary Unit to act as Secretary of State for thirty days at most. In fact, that is just what President Harrison did after Secretary Baine's resignation, for Wharton acted under his designation as Secretary of State for the full legal period, and Secretary Foster was not appointed until the last of the thirty days.

SCENES IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—There was a constant stream of callers today at the door to the annex to the Arlington, where Secretary Gresham had been accustomed to issue about 10 o'clock in the morning to walk across the park to the Department of State. A knot of crepe hung from the doorbell and across the square were to be seen the flags of the White House, Treasury, State, War and Navy Departments at half-mast.

Fronting the same square and hardly indred yards distant, a theater was uliding on the site of the historic man lon where the life of James G. Blain building on the site of the historic mansion where the life of James G. Blaine had ended soon after his resignation from the premiership of the preceding administration. The line of callers who drove or walked to the Arlington today included representatives of the official circles of Washington. Most of the callers left their cards with the attendants who stood at the doors. Justice Harlan of the Supreme Court, who had at one time sat upon the same bench with Secretary Gresham, was admitted to the family apartments and talked for some time with Otto Gresham.
He was visibly affected when he left. Mrs.
John W. Foster, wife of the Secretary of State who held that office during the last year of the Harrison administration, and who is a native of Indiana, came in. The Chinese Minister and his interpreter issued from a coach shortly afterward.
Most of the assistant secretaries and heads of government bureaus were among the early callers.

In giving directions for the inscription for the cofin-plate Otto Gresham stated March 17, 1833, as the year of his father's birth, and it was so engraved, although the biographies of Mr. Gresham give the year of his birth as 1832. WASHINGTON, May 28.—The remains of Secretary of State Gresham have been embalmed. The funeral arrangements are dependent upon the wishes of Mrs. Gresham, and, owing to the depression and grief following the death of her husband, the details of the place and time of interment have been left until later. The present purposes of the friends of the family are to have the funeral train-leave Washington tomorrow. A special train will' be provided, one car to bear the remains, and another for Mrs. Gresham and immediate relatives. These arrangements, however, are subject to such changes as Mrs. Gresham may desire.

Otto Gresham, son of the Secretary, arrived at 6:30 o'clock this morning by special train from Harrisburg. He was met at the station by Assistant Postmation-General Jones, a near personal friend of the family. He joined his mother at the Arlington Hotel, and they were given such privacy as possible. Mrs. Gresham is broken in spirit and body by the affiction and by her constant vigils up to the moment of her husband's death. Her daughter, Mrs. Andrews, and another relative, Mrs. Capt. Fuller, were with her constanty last night.

The body was laid out in the sleeping room where the death occurred. The metallic coffin is to be covered with a black cloth with beavy oxidized sliver handles and the usual plate for the name and circumstances of birth and death. Most of the prominent men in public life called at the hotel early in the day to leave cards. Floods of telegrams and cable-grams of condolence came in during the morning. It was said by members of the Cabinet in the city secretary. Secretary and Mrs. Lamont were at the hotel a long time.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—PostmasterGeneral Wilson, in speaking of Mr. Gresham today, said: "To know Judge Gresham today, said: "To know Judge Gresham was to love him as a man and to admire and respect him as a public servant.
When Mr. Bissell was leaving this department he told me that for all the worries and anxieties and disagreeable experiences of his official dife he was richly componsated by having made the acquaintance and enjoyed the friendship of Judge Gresham. I. share in the warmth of that feeling. As a man the Secretary was plain, cordial and high-toned. As Secretary of State he was severely laborious and painstaking. Through exceptional difficulties and embarrassments he conducted our foreign affairs with great ability, to the honor of the American name and the steady increase of our standing and influence among the nettors of the WORDS OF PRAISE. At the conclusion of the Cabinet meeting held this morning Secretary Lamont made a brief statement of the funeral arrangements. The remains of the Secretary will be taken from the Arlington Hotel to the Executive Mansion tomorrow and placed in the East Room, where funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock. They will be conducted by Bishop Hurst of the Methodist Episcopai Church. Seats will be reserved for the members of the Diplomatic Corps, the members of the United States Supreme Court, such Senspecting devotion to freedom, few lives have been more fruitful in high, unselfish and solid service to his country."

Secretary Herbert had this to say:
"Everybody knows of his ability and his patriotism. He was one of the most lovable men I ever knew. He was warmhearted, generous, frank and impulsive. He was so natural in his manner that every one could see the kind things he said and did came straight from his heart, and that was the secret of his great popularity. He was painstaking and conscientious in the discharge of all his duties, loving justice above all things. And the immense labor he devoted to the work of his department broke his constitution and no doubt shortened his days."

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The State Department was technically closed today, admission being denied to all visitors, although the employees were kept in waiting to assist in the discharge of formalities attending upon the notification of foreign powers of the nation's loss. Acting Secretary Uhl prepared the Graft of a formal note to be sent to the representatives of foreign nations.

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland, came to the White House at 10:30 o'clock, and was immediately waited on by Acting Secretary Uhl. An official order was prepared, closing the executive departments on the day appointed for the funeral.

President and Mrs. Cleveland called at the Arlington at 11 o'clock to see the members of Secretary Gresham's family and tender their sympathy. They drove over from the White House in an open carriage with no attendants but the driver on the box. Atty Gen. Olean. THE PRESIDENT DRIVES IN.

LONDON, May 28.—The news of the death of the Secretary of State of the United States was received with every mark of sympathy at the United States Embassy and British Foreign Office. Most of the newspapers today print the news without editorial comment. The St. James Gazette, however, says: "Mr. Gresham endeavored to preserve friendly relations with all foreign countries, especially England, and his wise statesmanship upon more than one occasion offended the spread-eagleism of Yankee politicians."

Many Americans called at the United States Consulate today, leaving their cards with expressions of sympathy for the family of Mr. Gresham in their bereavement. The flags of the United States Embassy and United States Consulate were half-masted and so were the flags on the American Exchange as well as upon several other buildings. ENGLISH COMMENT.

Among those who called on the United States officials were Bourke Cockran and Joseph H. Manley and Congressmen Apsley and McCall of Massachusetts. The latter seconded Mr. Gresham's nomination for the Presidency in 1888. The general opinion expressed among American politicians here is that Postmaster-General William L. Wilson will succeed Mr. Gresham.

The Barl of Kimberly, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has sent to Presiden Cleveland an expression of his very great regret at the death of Mr. Gresham. WHO WILL SUCCEED.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—There is considerable speculation by politicians and others outside the administration as to the successor of Secretary Gresham Prominent among the names of those mentioned are Atty-Gen. Olney, Uhl, the Assistant Secretary of State. Gray of Delaware, Ambassadors Bayard and Eustis, ex-Secretary Whitney and ex-Postmaster-General Dickinson. All the predictions are, however, speculative, as the subject has not been mentioned, much less discussed, by the President or anyone in his confidence.

WHITNEY A FAVORITE.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A Morning Journal special from Washington says: "Naturally there is much speculation as to the successor of Secretary Gresham in the State Department. The index finger of every public man in Washington points to ex-Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney. Just how far the possibility of his selection by the President at this juncture can be traced is not determined, but in the conversation of public men in Washington at the present time the belief exists that there is no other man sufficiently prominent in public affairs whose nomination would so thoroughly accord with public opinion, both outside and inside of the approving power of the Senate, as that of ex-Secretary Whitney.

"It is a singular fact that, upon the lips of almost every one asked in Washington their opinion as to who might properly be Secretary Gresham's successor, the reply is, 'Whitney,' or 'ex-Secretary Whitney,' or 'ex-Secretary Whitney.' Mr. Whitney is a Yale College graduate. He has been uncerting in his lines of social observance, and left Washington with a kindly glow of general benevolence, good-will and remembrance of superb Americanism behind him. He is looked upon from this center today as the most desirable successor to Mr. Gresham."

NEW YORK, May 28.—A special to the World from Washington, D. Physicians will notice that grave points of difference exist between the statement given out by Dr. W. W. Johnson, an allopathic physician, his immediate successor:

"I was called in to see Secretary Gresham Tuesday noon, April 30. He was suffering from an acute attack of gastralia with congestion of the liver and the undoubted passage of a lead stone, which conditions were relieved by opiates. These conditions continued in a rather severe form till Friday, May 3, when the stomach and bowel troubles were much improved, but the conditions in the liver and a developing intercostal neuralgia were troublesome factors.

"Saturday morning, May 4, at an early hour, symptoms of pleuritic complications were discovered on the right side, undoubtedly an extension from the inflammation of the liver. Up to this time Secretary Gresham had no cold or cough and these pleuritic conditions were pointed out to Mrs. Gresham and treatment instructed for their relief. My connection with the case terminated at this time, Saturday, May 4, at 7 am. I have not seen the Secretary since.

Turney, a storekeeper at with his posse, captured the robbers who held up A. R. Turney, a storekeeper at Rome, this county, one night last week, and arrived here with them last night. They were captured near Leadville, Ark. One of the bold thieves, and the one who appeared to be the leader of the gang, turned out to be a woman. Her name is Lydia Bryston. There were three of them who committed the robbery, the Bryston woman being dressed in men's clothing. She ordered Turney around in true highwayman style, punched him with her pistol and cursed him because he did not have more money, terrorizing him until he hardly knew whether he was on foot or horseback. Sheriff Hancock recovered $30 of the $60 taken, and both horses and saddles. The three thieves were Ben Trott, recently released from the State penitentiary; John Bryston, brother of the girl, about 18 years of age, and Lydia Bryston. Lydia Bryston is a rather comely girl, about 22 years old, who is well known to the police and officers of Springfield, Mo, and to the citizens of this town, where she worked at one time, as a loose character and a member of the demi-monde. When seen by a correspondent she refused to talk. They will be taken to West Plains, where they will be confined in jail until court meets.

The champion was agressive in his manner, but Fitzsimmons was very quiet, his lawyer, L. M. Friend, doing all the talking. The proceedings resulted in an agreement that Wendig should name the date and place for a meeting by July 1. Then Fitzsimmons will put up his $5000 forfeit. At one time it looked as af there would be a fight. This was when Corbett leaned over toward Fitzsimmons and remarked that the latter had made bluffe which he had failed to stand by.

"You can't go around the country saying things about me," shouted Corbett. "You've got duto this thing now, and you will have to fight."

"Never you fear," retorted Fitzsimmons, yery deliberately. "I'm not a bluffer, and

"Never you fear," retorted Fitzsimmons, very deliberately, "I'm not a bluffer, and I never was a bluffer. Furthermore, I have yet to see the human being that I'm afraid of. I want to say to all these gentlemen here that if am ready to fight at any time or piace."
Mutual friends stepped between the men and they calmed down. It is probable that the representatives of the Dalias, Tex., club, will be on in a few days to talk to Vendig and the fighters.

EASTERN CAMPAIGN.

'Sound Money" People Meet at Philadelphia.

Ex-Senator Edmunds Says the Great Question Must be Settled by Non-partisan Action.

The Colorado State League of Republican Clubs Declares for Silver. Queen Vic's Government are Staunch Goldbugs.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—The opening gun of the "sound money" campaign in the East was fired tonight at an enturisatic public meeting in the Academy of Music. The affair was under the management of a group of the better-known agement of a group of the country.

Inancial and business men of the country.

George B. Roberts, president of the Pennsylvania Raliroad Company, was chairman. The principal speakers of the evening were ex-United States Senator George F. Edmunds, ex-Comptroller of the Currency, William L. Trenholm, Congressman Michael D. Harter of Chilo, ex-Minister to Russia Charles Emery Smith, and James Warton.

In the beginning ex-Senator Edmunds said that the "sound money" question must be decided by political action; not party action, but that kind of action the Romans used to speak of when no man was for the party but all for the State: Quoting Thomas Jefferson's words: "The whole art of government consists in the art of being honest," he said: "That phrase is worthy to be written in letters of gold and placed in front of every public edifice in every hamlet on the continent. In a careful report prepared for the benefit of the first Congress, Jefferson said that the question of the difference between the value of gold and sliver as money was purely a commercial question; it did not depend on legislation or the fancy and tastes of man, but on commerce, which regulates the price of commodities."

The speaker then discussed the variation in yalue of the two metals.

"If any faith can be put in human experience," he said, "it ought to teach us

The speaker then discussed the variation in value of the two metals.

"If any faith can be put in human experience," he said, "it ought to teach us that we cannot make a given amount of silver worth any more when it is printed at the mint with the stamp of the United States than it was before. When the act 1873 was passed to stop silver coinage, all the principal countries of Europe were coming to have a single standard, gold. If the last Congress had passed on March 3, the dast day of its session, what is now vociferously demanded by the free-coinage people, every owner and producer of silver bullion would take his ounce of silver to the mint, worth 63.40 cents, and get 1.29 29-100 and, having got more than two silver dollars for his ounce of silver, he would come to the workingmen to yer to the mint, worth 63.40 cents, and get 1.29 29-100 and, having got more than two silver dollars for his ounce of silver, he would come to the workingmen to whom he owes for labor and say: 'If I bought it in metal, it would have taken ten pounds, but I have taken benefit of the United States officer and had it stamped and you must take five pounds of it.'

Ex-Comptroller Trenholm, during his remarks declared that it would be found that the issue now confronting us has become serious only because the two political parties have at one time or another and on one plea and another, courted the support of those who entortained, or affected to entertain, the idea that the coinege of silver dollars is so essential to the walfare and happiness of the people of the United States that all other political questions should be subordinated to it.

Congressman Harter followed Trenple of the United States that all other political questions should be subordinated to it.

Congressman Harter followed Trenholm. Harter argued that an abundance of money did not always prevent commercial and business depression. On the contrary, he argued, some of our financial panics had come at a time when money was abundant.

Hon. Charles Emery Smith, who spoke for the workingmen's interest, said, among other things: "The demagogue appeals for so-called cheap money are especially addressed to labor in hope that it may delude and mislead the honest sons of toil; but there is no portion of the people who are so profoundly interested as the workingman in maintaining honest money. Barring the immediate effects of the recent depression, there has never been a time when labor was so well paid as since 1890."

The meeting adopted a preamble and resolution which recites the sound money argument, and concludes as follows: "The intelligence and the sound sense of the American people must be aroused, for when aroused they can be relied upon to take such action as will avert the threatened calamity. Therefore, be it "Resolved, that a sound money learns

COLORADO RADICALS.

DENVER, May 28.—The State League of Republican Clubs met here today, electing full delegations to the National League meeting at Cleveland. A red-hot fight occurred over the resolutions, the minority favoring instructions to the Colorado delegates to bolt unless the convention came out unequivocally for free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. The resolutions which finally passed instruct the delegation to work for such action by the national convention. The platform adopted is worded in the strongest expressions. High tariff against all countries refusing to adopt a bimetallic money standard is urged. Another plank says there is no. a square inch of room for the Aparchiat, Socialist or Nihilist, nor any one not willing to swear allegiance to this country.

LONDON, May 28.—At a meeting of leading city bankers and merchants held at the banking-house of Glynn, Mills, Currie & Co., it was decided to form a gold standard defense association, and Bertram Currie, the chairman of the imeeting, was elected president of the mew association. The following address was then forwarded to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir William Harcourt:

"We, merchants and bankers of this city, desire to address you with reference to the discussion which has taken place in Parliament on the question of currency. But we are constrained to state that we view with grave apprehension any change in the system of the currency which has prevailed without interruption in this country since, 1816. We believe any serious attempt to modify it by the adoption of silver as a standard of value, either alone or concurrently with gold, will be followed by consequences dangerous to the trade and commerce of the country, and, further, if it were possible that such a measure should not only become a law, but be made effective in practice, it would disturb contracts, injure credit, check enterprise, and thus prove disastrous to both capitalists and wage-earners."

The signatures to the above address include the names of Brown, Shipley & Co., Freuhling & Goschen, Morton, Rose & Co., Rallie Bros., Charles Raphael & Co., Barclay, Bevan & Tritton, Benson, Bouviere & Co., Currie & Co., Robarts, Lubbock & Co., Schroder & Currie, and the directors of the National and Provisional Bank of England, the London and County Bank, the London and Westminster Bank of England, the Union Bank of London, Liové Bank, Paris Banking Company, and the Alliance Bank, Martin's Bank, the Union Discount Company, and the Bank of New South Wales.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer sent the following reply to the address; "I concur entirely in the opinion that the experience of well nigh a century has proved that the present system of currency is suited to the wants of this great commercial country, and that to depart therefrom would be disastrous to the trade and credit of the United Kingdom. You may rely upon it that Her Majesty's government will not give countenance to any change in the fundamental principles of our monetary system, or in any discussion in which they may be called to take part will they admit any doubt of their intention to drmly adhere to the single gold standard."

Ware introduced a resolution that the financial question, so far as the Democrats of Temas are concerned, be referred to a separate State-national convention of delegates chosen by primaries of the people, said primaries and State convention not to be held earlier than 1896. Several delegates wished to make the date indefinite, to be left to the future discretion of the State committee, the apparent idea being to hold primaries and a State convention during 1896.

Mosely, who had seconded Ware's original motion, objected to any amendment that would bring about primaries or a State convention earlier than 1896. The free-silver question, including these motions, was then referred to a committee of five. Hill and Barefoot, for the silver men, and Ware and Walker, gold men, with Chairman Dudley as the fifth member.

A FRENCH STEAMER WRECKED OFF CAPE CORRUBEDO.

The Dom Pedro Strikes on a Rock-Over One Hundred Persons Reported Killed or Drowned.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

CADIZ, May 28.—(By Atlantic Cable.)
The French steamer Dom Pedro, bound for Carrillo, Spain, has been wrecked off Corrubodo. Eighty were drowned. The disaster was caused by the bursting of a boiler.

LATER:—About one hundred lives were lost. The Dom Pedro was a 3000-ton steamer, and was engaged in running between Havre and the Argentine Republic calling at Bordeaux, France, and carried freight and passengers. The latter were mostly emigrants bound for the Argentine Republic or other points of South America. On her return trips the Dom Pedro was generally loaded with frozen mest. She left Havre on May 20, with a crew of forty-nine all told, and eighty passengers. At Carrillo, the steamer was to have embarked 200 additional passengers, but on the wasy to that port she ran on a rock at 6:40 o'clock p.m., off Cape Corrubodo, on the west coast of Galicia. Her boilers exploded, and the vessel floundered immediately afterward. It is now stated that only the captain and twenty-nine of the crew were saved, which would indicate that all passengers were either killed by the explosion or were drowned when the vessel went down. LATER:—A still later dispatch says that only the captain of the Dom Pedro and twenty-six of the crew were saved.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Oliver Winfield Winthrop, charged with the murder of Mrs. Jennie Mathews, was arraigned before Police Judge Joachimson this morning. His preliminary examination was set for June 7. Capt. Lees of the detectice force asked permission of the defense to open a letter taken from the prisoner and addressed to T. B. Linn, grand secretary of the Order of Chosen Friends. Counsel for the defense refused permission, but as Lees has Linn's telegraphic consent, he will open the letter any way. LIATER:—Capt. Lees opened the letter found in Winthrop's pocket, addressed to Supreme Recorder Linn of the Chosen Friends, Indianapolis. The detective was confident that the letter which Winthrop was about to mail when arrested contained important evidence. Instead, the letter read: "What is the course to pursue in filing a certificate of death in the case of Mrs. Jennie Matthews, who died under peculiar circumstances in this city? Please send place and date of her birth and such other information as will be necessary in making application to the court for the money due on beneficiary certificate in favor of her miner child."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—In a strange, vague way the first news of the wreck of the Colima was received tonight at the Merchants' Exchange. A telephone massage was received at the exchange saying that a resident of this city received a telegram this evening from his father, who was a passenger on the Colima. The telegram, as repeated to the Merchants' Exchange, read as follows:

Mr. Schwerin received the message notifying him of the disaster several hours after the telephone message was sent to the Merchants' Exchange. Therefore, when inquiries were made early this evening the local representatives of the steamship company had learned nothing of the calismity and in fact they doubted the authenticity of the news until the official message to the general manager confirmed the vague and anonymous report.

W. H. Avery, ticket clerk of the steamship company, said this evening that probably the wreck occurred at Point Tejupon, the headland which the Grenada struck on June 22, 1889. The report suggests that the executive should issue a call to all chiefs of bureaus and organize a Board of Supervisors of Statistics to meet monthly, who should have general supervision of the collection of statistics. Any department contemplating an investigation of any parday last two convicts, one of whom is named Woods and the other Duff, were ore of Statistics to meet monthly, who should have general supervision of the collection of statistics. Upon presentation to the board of the completed work, it should be simplified and abridged, and any matter germane for the work of some other department abould be given over to the department to which it belongs.

Commissioner Fitzgerald informed the Governor also that 250 destitute people were diving on "the dumps" at the foot of Seventh street, San Francisco. They had until recently eked out a miserable subsistence by gathering bones, rags, scrap iron, tin and other junk and selling it, but even this acanty means of a scanty livelihood has been taken away by the keeper of the "the dumps," who has let out the privilege of junk-gathering to Italian scavengers. The wretched people who are living in the dumps, house themselves in old gas-mains, water-pipes and in huts made of mats.

Fitzgerald informed an Associated Press reporter this afternoon that he understood that Horticultural Commissioner Hatch and more than one member of other commissions, were the employees of hundreds of Japanese and Chinese. He proposed to look into the matter, and to offer to supply all the white labor wanted. As soon as he establishes a free employment and registration bureau, next week, he will be able to supply vineyardists, orohardists and others with gangs of men from two up to one thousand.

The labor commissioner informed the Covernor that there are at present not less Another question quite as important in its reference to the act was also decided by Atty.-Gen. Fitzgerald. The meaning of the dairy act in reference to the making of packages was much in doubt. The Attorney-General decided that it is not necessary to mark anything except the package in which the butter or cheese is packed.

When she returned she told her father that she had been imprisoned in a house on Van Ness avenue and had made her escape through a window. She said that she had been taken to the place by a woman who assured her that it was an employment office for girls.

This story told by the missing girl would receive very little credence were it not supported by certain knowledge in the possession of the officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. They have heard of just such a house on Van Ness avenue and they will leave nothing undone to locate it and Will Resign Under Compulsion. TACOMA (Wash.) Died of His Injuries. SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—Charles Koeiling, who was struck on the head by an unknown man on May 13 last, died today of his injuries. Koeiling was building a brick oven on Folsom street, but was interrupted in his work by hoodlums whom he drove from the house. One of them waited for him as he left the house at dark and struck him on the head with a brick. So far no arrests have been made nor is there any clew to the murderer.

any country of the world. Their wages will purchase more of the necessities of life than the wages paid for similar labor anywhere ouside of the United States. It is a faise pretense that the cheapening of money will be benedicial to them.

The Republican party in its national platform of 1892 demanded good money of equal purchasing power. by the present standard are higher than in

of money will be beneficial to them.

The Republican party in its national platform of 1892 demanded good money of equal purchasing power, whether coined of silver or gold or composed of United States notes and national bank notes, based on the credit of the United States, maintained at par with coin. This is the bimetallic policy. There we stand today. I hope and trust there we will stand forever. We will seek the co-operation of all nations and of all parties in maintaining the parity of gold and silver coins. If they will not co-operate with us in this policy, the Republican party can, and I hope will, do it alone. Good money and plenty of it is as important to our people as equality of rights and privileges.

Let us then, with a firm reliance upon the principles, policy and wisdom of the great party to which we belong, nominate our candidate and declare our platform, and then make our appeal to the intelligence of the people of Ohio. In all the great issues made in the last forty years the Republican party of Ohio has had the courage to propose and to do what is right. Let us now follow in the same pathway, and we will not only elect a Republican Governor and State officers, but also another Republican Senator and I hope a President of the United States from the State of Obio.

At the conclusion of the Senator's speech the swelve Congress districts were called for members of committees and other positions, and it was found that there were bitter contexts for seats, especially in the Toledo and Springfield districts. A committee on resolutions was appointed and afterward organized with ex-Secretary Charles Foster as chairman. The convention for the nomination of Governor: J. W. Barger, J. Warren Kiefer, J. H. Hoyt, George W. Nash, Robert M. Nevin, A. L. Harris and E. W. Poe.

The Clark county delegation from Bushnell's home stood out for Gen. Kiefer until the last ballot, when it gave each half of its vote. The result of the nomination was received as a great victory for Foraker.

The resolutions adopted declare as follows:

The resolutions adopted declare as fol-lows:

"First, we reaffirm our adherence to the principles of the Republican party, as de-fined by the national convention in 1892, chief among which are a protective tariff, which restoring American wages and American products, shall prove to the highest interests of American laborers and American development, while providing adequate revenue for the uses of the gov-ernment; reciprocity, which, while seeking and gaining the world's market for our surplus products, shall not lower or deernment; reciprocity, which, while seeking and gaining the world's market for our surplus products, shall not lower or destroy American wages, nor surrender our own markets to foreign commodities which can be produced at home; fair elections, based upon a free ballot and an honest count, the safeguard of American institutions, the true source of public authority; honest money, consisting of gold, silver and paper, every dollar as good as any other dollar, and all backed by the national faith and honor. We favor bimetallism, and demand the use of both gold and silver as standard money, either in accordance with a ratio to be fixed by an international agreement if that can be obtained, or under such restrictions and such provisions to be determined by legislation as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals. So that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal.

It has lowered the flag in Hawaii in an un-American attempt to overthrow a republic and restore a monarchy, and, with unpatriotic indifference, has suffered British troops to land in Nicaragua, in contemptuous disregard of the Monroe doctrine; by these and similar acts our country, second in power and dignity to none, has suffered a loss of respect throughout the world.

For this honorable place in the upper house of the United States Congress, the Republicans of the State have but one candidate, and we, their representatives here assembled, give voice to that sentiment in naming and recommending as their choice for that position, that grand soldier, peerless orator and patriotic statesman, Joseph B. A pure, patriotic, unselfish life of public service has endeared him to the Republicans of the nation and justly won him place among the few chosen by popular acclaim for his station and great leadership. Believing him to possess in an eminent degree those rare qualities of broad, wide and patriotic statesmanship which not only fit him for victorious leadership in a great campaign, but for a successful administration after election, we present William McKinley to the Republicans of the nation as a candiate for the nomination for President in 1896 and we pledge

WANTED-A NO. 1 SAFETY, CHEAP FOR cash. 116 W. SECOND ST. 29

FOR SALE-FOR SALE-MAYNE,

Grand-ave. lot, 70x177, bet. 32d and 23d sta., $2100. People hunt for desirable spots to build upon. To meet the demand for really gilt-edge sites for fine residences we have secured a few of the very choicest lots in the city at prices asked for ordinary-sized lots. The above is a beautiful location and a big piece of ground.

Washington ave., 52%x176 feet, bet. Oak and Toberman, $1800. This is less than the actual market value for this. MAYNE.

Figureoa st.—We have secured the very finest corner on this street. Think of SNAIs feet, almost an acre, on the corner of Figureoa and Jefferson sta, covered with magnificent trees. This is a lovely corner and price is very low, $3600. MAYNE.

A number of people are hunting for choice homes. We have secured a few of the finest country places to be found any place. 12½ acres a few miles from the city, all set to fruit, shrubbery, etc.; fine large house; an elegant place; cost nearly twice as much as is asked for it now. Or, will exchange for city property, Main-st. preferred.

MAYNE.

Cahuenga Valley is coming to the front. Sherman will have his electric road in operation to Santa Monica inside of 90 days. The line goes close to a fine foothill place we have secured, 32 acres; 10-room house, every modern convenience; 10 acres lemons; absolutely frostless; tomatoes, peas, and, in fact, all kinds of vegetables grow and ripenduring the winter months; $1000 worth of peas sold off this place last winter. It is a home and a paying property combined. It is no the line of the dummy that runs peas sold off this place last winter. It is a home and a paying property combined. It is on the line of the dummy that runs through Cahuenga Valley. The water-right with this place is worth more than the price asked; no water rent to pay and lots of water to sell; $12,500 will buy it, if taken at once. If not, owner will raise price to $20,-000 and raise money elsewhere. MAYNE.

Figueroa st.—Boyond the city limits we have a fine piece of land, fronting 2640 feet on Figueroa, 18 rods deep, with flowing well; fine stand of affaila. Some day this will cut into lots and sell for a heap of money. The price asked now, 33600, is ridiculous when the prospects of the propert are considered.

MAYNE.

Intending purchasers had better see us no matter what they want. We can say you money. Remember, Mayne finds the bargains.

We are unable to buy everything on Main st. We have made a thorough study of that street. We know where the bargains are and where the business is going. We know some other things about the street. We are willing to extend our assistance and give any information we can. It will be money in your pocket to see us about Main st.

MAYNE.

HERE ARE SOME SMALL BARGAINS.

First st., only 3 blocks from Broadway 37x110 with cottage; also 10x109 feet running in from another street, now used for an alley by all the people in the block; the pur chaser can shut it up, or make them partheir proportion; $3000 gets the place; this if $1000 less than its value.

MAYNE.

Temple st.—Lot 50x150; 2-story, 6-room house; fine bargain; $3500. Go and see it 1027 Temple st. MAYNE.

1027 Temple st. MAYNE.

-$1000 SPOT CASH?-

There is a 30x20 house, which needs a whole lot of repairs—say $50—and then it is worth $600 at least; there is an unfinished well which cost a whole lot over $200 and it will take $25 to $50 to finish it—then you will have more water than you know what to do with.

It cost $15 an acre to clear this land.
The improvements are worth, as they are,
not less than $600.
That leaves 40 acres costing you $200 less than nothing!

Besides this, we will give you 5 acres adjoining for nothing.

FOR SALE—AT POMONA.

"I SELL THE EARTH!"

Pomona is a first-class country. The young and growing city is located on the S.P.R.R. 32 miles east of Los Angeles. Claremont is the college town, lying about 4 miles northeast of Pomona on the Santa Fe Railroad. For a refined, educated class of people, the residents of Claremont would be hard to beat. Lying between Pomona and Claremont is 20 acres of land, about 12 acres to bearing oranges, balance variety of rule in bearing; income this year about £2000. This place belongs to a mon-resident. She has no use for it. You can buy it now for a short time for $10,500; very easy terms it desired. P. S.—There is a noble old oak treon place, near the house, an old-residenter from away back. R. S. BASSETT. 29

"I SELL THE EARTH!"

20 acres of land in California is a good holding. We consider that 10 acres properly planted to fruit trees, with good, intelligent care, will pay as well as 160 acres which is devoted to regular farming. This fact has been demonstrated for years. Now I have 20 cres, 5½ acres being lemons, 3 acres oranges just commencing to bear, 2 acres prune trees, good bearing; water-right, comment ditch with numerous turnouts along morth side of one 10; small house and barn, 2 rows grown trees on west side, probably 14 or 18 tons now on trees; also fine crop lemons; price $5000, possibly less.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
LOS ANOELES, May 23, 1895.
GOVERNMENT FINANCES. Now that the income tax has been declared unconstitutional, there is much speculation as to what course will be taken by the government in order to make up the continued deficit in its income. For some time past the income of the government has been nearly a million dollars a week less than the cost of maintenance, and if this loss is kept up, it is evident that something will have to be done. There are esid to be only two alternatives, one is an extra session of Congress, and the other a sale of bonds. Those on the inside say that Cleveland will not call another session of Congress, esides which the bond syndicate is under contract to maintain the government reserve until October 1. The chances are, therefore, that there will be no extra session before that date, but it ds not at all unlikely that there may be another bond sale.

THE FRUIT TRIADE. The first auction sale of deciduous fruits in Chicago, reports of which have just been received, is declared by shippers not to be at all satisfactory. The auction was heralded as one which was to be open to all bidders, and a good deal of matter was sent over the wires regarding the benefits which California growers would derive from this new departure. As far as can be learned, however, the result of the auction is not such as to justify these brilliant expectations. It is charged that the buyers were not retail dealers but commissionmen. In case these charges are well founded h is time that the deciduous fruit-growers of California should perfect a complete organization similar to that of the orange-growers of Southern California, and take the handling of their fruit into their lown hands. The fruit crop of California has become far too important a product to be any longer cornered by a few men.

California has become far too important a product to be any longer cornered by a few men.

Since berries and other spring fruits began to come into the market the demand for oranges has fallen of very perceptibly. Fortunately the navel oranges are practically all shipped, also a considerable proportion of the seedlings. The oranges that remain unsold are seedlings and Mediterranean sweets. A considerable proportion of the seedlings that have not yet been disposed of are those around Los Angeles. It is true that these oranges, or most of them, have thick skins and do not rank in appearance as first-class fruit, but, many of them are sweet and juicy, and, in fact, excellent caking. It seems as if the amilies of Los Angeles, many of whom are unable to afford much fruit at current rates, should be able to consume these oranges if they were supplied at a low price—say enough to pay for the labor of picking and pedding them, and give the grower a little. This would be better than letting them sot on the trees.

SHOE FACTORIES. One of the large fields for commercial enterprise in Southern California is the manufacture of shoes. There is a shoe factory in Alhambra and recently another small factory has been started in Los Angeles with a capacity of fifty pairs daily. The is, however, merely a drop in the bucket, as may be seen from an estimate which was recently made that shoes to the value of $5,000,000 are imported into California every year. This is a big drain on the State, and there seems to be no reason why it should continue. The press is repeatedly calling attention to the folly of exporting hides from California to the East, paying the freight on them, paying the freight hock on the shoes, and at the same time sending away millions of dollars to Eastern manufacturers.

Will some one explain why Los Angeles should not have one or more first-class shoe factories?

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS HORSES, ELECTRICITY, BICYCLES, t looks as if the end of the century would HORSES, ELECTRICITY, BICYCLES. It looks as if the end of the century would witness a very great diminution in the use of horses in cities. To a greater extent than many people suppose, electricity has already supplanted horses as a motive power on street cars, not only in the United States, but in other parts of the world. The car lines used to furnish a market for a large number of horses, and there is no doubt that this change is one of the reasons for the great decrease that has taken-place in the value of horse flesh during the past couple of years. Nor is the use of electricity confined to the propulsion of street cars. In Europe for several years past private carriages run by electricity have become quite common, and it is quite probable that they will soon be introduced in the United States on a larger scale, the chief drawback at present being the abominable condition of the average American road. Next month there is to be a big race from Paris to Bordeaux, in France, of carriages run by other than horse power.

The Murder of an American.

NEW YORK, May 28.—A special to the Hereld from Guatemals says that the new investigation into the murder of the American, Charles Wrenton, in March, 1894, at Brewer's Lagoon, Honduras, is being vigorously prosecuted. In reply to the Peremptory demand made by United States Minister Young, the Honduras government has telegraphed him here that it will sift the affair to the bottom and bring the guilty ones to justice. pean markets under the agreement said to have been concluded recently between the Standard Oil Company and the Russian refiners. The other soutces of supply have yet to be developed on a large scale. There is oil in Bobesnia, Galicia, Burmah, Sumatra, Peru and possibly elsewhere. The Burmah deposits are being worked with moderate success, and the "Langkat" oil of Sumatra has gained over one-third of the demand at Singapore, Penang and elsewhere in the Strafts Settlements. The oil of Peru is langely supplying the west coast of South and Cantral America.

NOT A DAY FOR MIRTH.

The address of the General Committee of the Grand Army posts of this city, calling attention to the serious character and purposes of Memorial day, is serving of indorsement by all citizens. It is to be regretted that there has been for years a growing tendency to devote the day to uses entirely inconsistent its purpose. Resolutions were ed at the National Encampment of the Grand Army in Milwaukee in 1889, oring this tendency and urging that an effort be made to correct it, and to aintain the sacred character of the day. The resolutions have, however, failed of their purpose, and the day has been more and more appropriated for sports and morial day is, in its proper char-, essentially different from any of our national holidays. Indeed, t ought not to be regarded as a holiit ought not to be regarded as a holi-day at all, in the common meaning of the word holiday, but rather as a holy day, as the word originally signified. It was established for the purpose of paying tribute to the memory of the heroic dead; of recalling their sacrifices and renewing pledges of devotion to the prin-cibles to which they dedicated their cipies to which they dedicated their lives. The Fourth of July, Christmas, New Year's, Washington's birthday, and Thanksgiving are all largely of a fes-tive character, and legitimate sports and ments are entirely consistent purposes. This fact makes it en natural that the younger genera tion—those whose memories do not go back to the time of the war—should loo apon Memorial day as also a day recreation. But the use of this day es and hilarious pastimes is not only aconsistent with the patriotic purposes if the occasion, but it does violence to Ings of those who recall the sufferings and death of friends, or the mental and tender memories and sacred feel physical agonies of personal experience on battlefields, in hospitals and in prisons. A day which speaks of the nguish of wounded and dying men, of rings by hunger and thirst, and he phaned children is not a time for hilar ity. A decent respect for the sorrows of those who weep, as well as the mem-ory of the heroic dead and the honor of heroic living, demands a serious,

THE ARMENIAN HORRORS.

Every fresh report that comes from outheastern Europe—reports that emanate from thoroughly trustworthy sources, notably the correspondent of the Associ-ated Press--adds to the multitude of horrors which already attach to the recent Armenian massacres. Some of the latest details of atrocities perpetrated by the 'unspeakable Turk," are so horrible that vouched for by thoroughly responsipersons. The Apaches have a repuity and cruelty, but it is doubtful whether Apache ever went so far as these regpops of a nation that claims to be civilized. The story of their doings reads tike a ghastly nightmare. Thousands of girls have been ravished and then hacked to death; the inhabitants of entire viles have been tortured and then killed; children yet unborn have been torn from the palpitating bodies of their mothers impaled on spears amid the jeers of the flendish soldiery, and mothers have compelled to eat the flesh of their own children who have been murdered and roasted before their eyes.

Meantime, as usual, at the request of the "great powers," the Porte has appointed a commission to "inquire into" these outrages, the result of which will, course, be a farce, like those which we preceded it. Indeed, it is stated that preparations are already under way for another massacre. In England Gladstone has for years raised his voice in manly protest against the barbarity of a system which, for the sake of maintaining a fictitious "balance of power" among the great nations of Europe, permits a morind and half-civilized country like Turoutrages on the unfortunate Christian ulations that are subject to its sway among the prominent men of Europe who est seriously against these diabolical es. The question is considered as one macy, but it is not a diplomatic ction, it is one of humanity. The comments of the press, on the death of Mr. Gresham are not very laudatory, as a rule. But the unkindest cut of all comes from a British newspaper, the St. James Gazette. In an article intended to be highly complimentary to Mr. Gresham, that paper says: "Mr. Gresham endeavored to preserve friendly relations with all foreign countries, especially England, and his wise statesmanrelations with all foreign countries, ex-pecially England, and his wise statesman-ship upon more than one occasion of-fended the spread-eagleism of Yankee-politicians." We loved Mr. Gresham least for the friends he made.

Although Secretary Gresham's mains are still above ground, the dis-cussion as to who will be his successor has already attained lively proportions in Washington. The preponderance of opinion points quite strongly to William C. Whitney as Mr. Gresham's successor. We may be reasonably certain, at all events, that with the incoming of the new Secretary there will be a decided im-provement in the State Department. But, indeed, this discussion "follows hard

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATER.—The return engagement of "The American Girl" began at the Los Angeles Theater last night. A number of changes have been made in the cast since the plece was produced here last week, and generally for the better, although the part of Twister as played by Loyla O'Connor, is not so well presented as it was previously. Hattle Foley appears to much better, advantage as the daughter than she did as the mother, and Madeline Granger makes the utmost of the role of Lady Derwent. In her hands the character is well rounded and wholly relieved of the gaucheries which pre-Madeline Granger makes the utmost of the role of Lady Derwent. In her hands the character is well rounded and wholly relieved of the gaucheries which previously marred the impersonation. L. Johnstone as the breezy and generous American theatrical manager, on the hunt for a reigning London celebrity, does excellent work, and Rose Stillman confirmed the good impression made on her previous appearance. The little people, Pardee Howe and Nina Cook, as Prince Roy and Virginia, respectively, do their pathetic bits of playing with such expression as to deserve warm praise. They are bright and engaging children, with a talent far beyond their years. The play, as has been already noticed in a previous issue of The Times, is both good and bad. Its strong American sentiment stirs the American girl and the frequent references to the country of the bird of freedem never fail to get enthusiastic applause, but its conventional villain, and its bethos is still. end villain, and its bathos conventional villain, and its bathos is still as flagrantly apparent as ever.

There is the germ of a strong play in "The American Girl," yet as it now stands but little more, for it is full of inconsistencies, crudities and dramatic chestnuts that deserve to be pensioned and retired from the arena of the footlights. The piece will be presented for two more nights, with a maintee on Thursday afternoon, the latter performance being designed especially for children.

ORPHEUM. An entirely new programme is being prepared for the latter part of the week. The comedy at present running at this house will be succeeded by Mr. James Tenbrooke's original and comical skit "Baked Alive," a ludicrous German comedy. The change is announced to take place at the special Decoration day marines tomorrow. Specialties will be introduced by Perry and Tenbrooke, Lillie Lowell and Maude Harvey, Allen and West, Lillian Perry and McBride and Flynn. Constanz and Ida will also appear in their wonderful equilibristic and acrobatic performance. These artists are alone worth going to the Orpheum to see without taking into consideration the many other attractive features on the programme.

Suitable Quarters for Female Prisoners to be Provided.

The Police Commissioners Instructe by the Council to Secure Them at Once.

The Will of the Late Gov. Downey at Last Reaches the Court—The Azusa Bank Robber Found Guilty.

The Board of Police Commissioners received instructions from the City Council yesterday to at once provide suitable quarters for the city's female prisoners, and a committee was appointed in conjunction with the Chief and Police Matron, with power to act. Charges were oreferred against Officer J. R. Ritch by Frits Wannike, a First-street saloon keeper. City Attorney Dunn returned from the East yesterday morning armed with legal opinions of leading attorneys in New York favorable to the bonds. The will of the late Gov. Downey was yesterday opened and a photograph taken of its contents. A petition will soon be filed by Senstor White asking that it be probated. The jury in the Asusa Bank robbery case returned a verdict of guilty, and the defendant, Myers, will be sentenced next Monday. A number of minor cramping cause were disposed of, and the level of the contents of the confiners of the contents of the contents. The Board of Police Commissioners recriminal cases were disposed of, and the usual grist of new suits were filed.

AGAINST OFFICER RITCH.

FRITZ WANNTKE PREFERS CHARGES

AGAINST OFFICER RITCH.

The Board of Police Commissioners held its regular weekly session yesterday morning, Mayor Rader presiding, and all the members, with the exception of Commissioner Barham, being present.

The matter of the application of W. A. Osgood for a transfer of J. W. Griffith's license to him for a new saloon to be located in Center Place, which was laid over at the preceding meeting was taken up out of order for the purpose of accommodating A. M. Rawson, who appeared on behalf of the property-owners in the block, bounded by Spring, First and Second and Center Place, to protest against the proposed saioon.

Two protests having been filed against the place since the Chief reported upon it, the board, upon motion of Commissioner Pirtle dismissed the matter by ordering that both application and protests be filed.

The application of A. Raphael, for a redering that both application and protests be filed.

The application of A. Raphael, for a rebate of $25 from his May license, was referred to the Council with the recommendation that it be granted, it appearing that his saloon at the junction of San Fernando and Olympia streets was not opened until May 15.

The pay-roll of the department for the current month, amounting to $6932.47 was approved, as were also two demands for supplies, aggregating $15.25.

The Chief having reported that G. Moreno was not a proper person to have authority as an officer, special or otherwise, the petition of V. Sotello et al., asking for his appointment in Sonoratown was denied.

A communication from the City Clerk town was denied.

A communication from the Chy Clerk conveying the instructions of the Council to at once procure suitable quarters for female prisoners was then read.

Commissioner Field moved that the matter be referred to Police Matron Gray, but the amendment of Commissioner Firle that it be referred to a commiscioner of the board, Mrs. Gray and the Chief of Police, with power to act. prevailed.

tee of two members of the board, Mrs. Gray and the Chief of Police, with power to act, prevailed.

Chief Glass informed the board that Mrs. Gray, the Police Matron, reported at headquarters every day, but as there was no provision for her accommodation at the City Jall she was not required to be there all day. He supposed, however, that when the new quarters were provided she would be there and attend to her duties at all times. There were only four females confined in the jail now, and if none were sentenced within the coming month all of them would be out. He had offered to transfer one of them, a girl named Georgie McCurdy, to the Ransom Home, but she declined to go, preferring to serve her time out.

Commissioner Field was of the opinion that for so small a number it would be cheaper to board them at the Hollenbeck, than to provide quarters, as two-more jailers would be necessary to guard them.

Mayor Rader thought it would be a good

Mayor Rader thought it would be a good Mayor Rader thought it would be a good idea to allow them to escape.

The offer of J. W. Hendrick to lease a store on Chicago street to the city at $10 per month, for the purpose of assisting in the establishment of a branch station at Boyle Heights was referred to the

The following communication from F. Wanntke, preferring charges against J. R. Ritch, was then read:

To the Honorable Board of Police Commissioners of the City of Los Angeles:

I herewith wish to make charges against Officer Ritch, whose beat has been on First street at night. On last Wednesday night he entered my place of business of the communication of the comm day night he entered my place of business, No. 229 East First street, and, because I refused to allow him to use my telephone, he knocked me down and then arrested me. He charged me with disturbing the peace, to which charge I pleaded guilty on the recommendation of Eugene Maxwell and Attorney Crawford, without first knowing that they had personal reasons for thus influencing me. But this does not make me guilty of disturbing the peace.

Peace.

I herewith charge Officer Ritch with:
First-Forcibly entering my saloon, and, after knocking me down, using my telephone without my consent or wishes, and by force.

Second-With accusing me of drunkenness when I was sober, thus preventing the police clerk from allowing me to give ball, when I had over $50, the required amount on my person.

ness when I was sober, thus preventing the police clerk from allowing me to give bail, when I had over $50, the required amount, on my person.

Third-With arresting me out of spite, because L. Brose, whom he had arrested a few moments before, jumped in his wagon and drove away, thus escaping being taken to prison.

I hereby testify that I was wrongfully and brutally treated by the officer, who, in any case, acted inhumanly, and wRhout just cause. I respectfully ask that, the honorable Board of Police Commissioners look into the charges carefully, and I name as witnesses Frank McHugh, my bartender; L. Brose of Riven and Ninth streets, J. K. Klahn, No. 106 Vine street, whom I believe will bear me out.

Respectfully,

The communication, which was duly subscribed and sworn to before a notary public, was referred to the Chief for investigation, but as the latter suggested that he might be accused of blas, Commissioner Pirtle was appointed a committee to investigate the matter.

Upon motion of Commissioner Field, action upon the application of Kohl & McGraw for a saloon license at First and Vine streets was deferred for another week.

The application of Charles E. Barnard for a saloon license at the southeast corner of Los Angeles and Commercial streets, and F. Conrad for a saloon license at the northwest corner of First and Los Angeles streets, were referred to the Chief for investigation.

That of George Brown for appointment

Angeles streets, were for investigation.

That of George Brown for appointment as a policeman was filed.

That of M. L. Polaski & Co., again asking for a rebate of $225 from their license, was referred to the Council, that body having already acted upon a former application.

Want Reduced Water Rates.

R. W. Wood, chairman of a committee of Vernon property-owners and irrigators, has filed a petition to the City Council has filed a petition to the City Council asking for a reduction in the rates charged for the use of water taken from the zunjas south of the city, and for an opportunity to present certain facts in connection therewith. The matter will probably be taken up at the next regular meeting of the Council, but it is very unlikely that the request will be acceded to, as the zanja system, which is maintained principally for the benefit of property-owners outside of the city limits, is a very expensive luxury under the existing rates.

A Tardy School-site Bid.

It seems strange that in this age of enlightment, and among such progressive people as the residents of this city, there should yet be found individuals so far behind the age that they were willing to admit, tacitly or otherwise, that they did not read the newspapers. A. Greenwood of this city, however, is evidently such an individual, for do a communication to the City Council, filled with the City Clerk; yeaterday, he announces that he has just learned that proposals for school sites were being received, and offered to sell two lots on Fremont avenue in the rear of the Fearl-street school for $5000. It will doubtless surprise him to learn that his proposal was put in twenty-four hours too late to enable it to consideration, but such is unfortunately the case. A Tardy School-site Bid.

Presented His Bill.

The Sewer Committee braved the elements yesterday and made a tour of inspection along the line of the outfall sewer to Inglewood, where an investigation of the state of affairs recently reported by Dan Freeman was made. Except for the hole from which Mr. Freeman's mare was extracted, the committee saw no such dangerous places as those cited by the "Laird of Inglewood," but as a matter of precaution it was deemed advisable to have a more thorough examination made, and a man was detailed to go over the ground with a crowbar for the purpose of ascertaining whether any such cavities existed, so that they may be filled in at once.

a singular coincidence the bill, which Dan Freeman threatened to send in, arrived at the Mayor's office while the committee was on the ground. The mare having died from the result of her injuries, Mr. Freeman's demand reads as follows: "For loss of mare through caving in of outfall sewer and expenses incurred in getting her out, $115." The probabilities are that the claim will be tallowed so far as the value of the mare is concerned.

Bishop Francis Mora has petitioned the Council to vacate and abandon the blind alley in the rear of his property, lots 7, 8, 9 and 10, in block 6, of the O. W. Childs two-bundred-lot tract. Unless some are presented during the session of the Board of Fire Commissioners this morning, that body will, for the first time in six months, have no new applications for oil permits to consider.

THE CITY ATTORNEY BRINGS BACK A FAVORABLE OPINION. Travel-stained, dusty and weary, but by Travel-stained, dusty and weary, but by no means depressed or disappointed looking, City Attorney W. E. Dunn returned from New York yesterday morning after an absence of thirteen days only, and at once visited his office in the City Hall, where he was besieged by anxious inquirers as to the result of his mission. In view of the fact that he was expected to make a formal report of what he had accomplished to the Council at a special session called for that purpose on Friday next, the City Attorney naturally declined to impart all the information desired to those who applied for it, and beyond the fact that he had met with better success than he anticipated, he confined his remarks almost entirely to his trip.

In an interview with a Times reporter In an interview with a Times reporter later in the day, however, Mr. Dunn said:
"Judge Dillon has carefully examined the school bonds of $306,000 proposed to be issued, and has given us a first-class, unqualified opinion, finding them legal, valid obligations of the city. He has made the same examination relative to the bonds proposed to be issued for headworks and police station, and has given a similar opinion upon these bonds. "In the matter of the refunding bonds, Story & Thorndyke have given an opinion to the effect that the city has no right, under the Constitution, to refund and extend its old indebtedness. These attorneys are very prominent authorities and extend its old indebtedness. These autorneys are very prominent authorities upon municipal bond questions, and their opinion has much weight, especially in New England. Judge Dillon does not agree with Story & Thorndyke upon the questions raised by them, and is of the opinion that the bonds are good. He advises, however, that in view of the black eye given the bonds by the opinion of Story & Thorndyke, and in view of the fact that prominent attorneys disagree vises, however, that in view of the black eye given the bonds by the opinion of Story & Thorndyke, and in view of the fact that prominent attorneys disagree upon the question, that the matter be submitted to the Supreme Court for determination. Judge Dillon is of the opinion that the statute passed by the late Legislature, which so seriously hampers the sale of bonds, is unconstitutional. As I have said, I have procured the opinions of Judge Dillon upon all these bond issues, and the opinion of Story & Thorndyke upon the refunding issue. These opinions will be inclosed with my report to the City Council.

"I regard the opinions obtained upon the school bonds and upon the headworks and police station bonds as possibly the most important features of my mission to. New York. Our credit had been damaged to a considerable extent by the adverse report of Story & Thorndyke upon the refunding bonds, and is restored as to our new issues by the opinions procured of Judge Dillon, as he is, by long odds, the most eminent authority on municipal securities in the United States, and an issue of bonds already approved by him will sell in any market at first-class prices without delay.

"I am glad to be able to say that none of the questions raised regarding the validity of the refunding bonds result from any act of the present city government, nor could they have been foreseen or avoided by this administration. The question is simply whether or not, under our Constitution, a municipality can refund an outstanding bonded indebtedness, and thereby extend the time of payment the continent in four days and fifteen hours.

The members of the City Council, almost all of whom were closeted with the City Attorney at various times during the day, appeared to be jubilant over the result of his mission. Several of the Cauncilmen apenty expressed their belief that there was no necessity for submitting the matter to the Supreme Court, as the bonds could be sold here without going to that expense, at a premium. The consensus of opinion among the city officials is that Street, Wyckes & Co., the New York bidders, suddenly discovered that their bid was a triffe too hish for the marketing of the bonds, and in order to save themselves employed Story & Thorndyke to discover a flaw in them.

What the Council will do in the premises remains to be seen, however, and until the City Attorney makes his report to that body on Friday next mothing can be said definitely as to whether or not the matter will be taken up to the Supreme Court.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

The Courts. GOV. DOWNEY'S WILL TO BE AD-MITTED TO PROBATE.

The reputed will of the late Gov. John G. Downey, recently discovered in San Diego, and about which there has been such a wast deal of discussion and comment, was opened pesterday and filed with the County Clerk. A photograph of the will has been taken, and it is expected that Senator White will, in a few days, file a petition before Judge Clark, asking that the will be probated. Discussion as to its genuineness stil continues. The codicil of the will bears no date, and the signature of one of the witnesses, D. O. McCarthy, is denied by that genuieman, as genuine, he making the declaration that he has never signed such a document.

Attempted robberies on the bank had been made before, and at the time of Myers's attempt, a watch was being kept by Cashier Daniels and Henry Anderson. When Myers made his entrance, Daniels who had a shotgun, rushed into the rocum followed by Anderson. The robber jumped from the window, and as Cash'sr Daniels rushed up a shot was fired from the outside. He jumped through the open window, and immediately another shot was fired. This shot came from the gun of Deputy Constable Stevens, and struck Daniels in the leg. Myers, the robber made no attempt at escape and was taken to the County Jail. The examination yesterday developed the fact of his evident insanity. A number of depositions were read yel-villed to his freakish actions.

A SHREWD YOUNG MAN WHOSE NAME IS THOMAS.

NAME IS THOMAS.

The impassive equanimity of Sheriff Burr was somewhat disturbed yesterday when a man named Thomas, owner of the Anchor livery stables on South Spring street, presented him with a good-sized bill for the use of a horse and carriage. The liveryman declared that last Wednesday he provided a horse and carriage for the use of a young man and a lady, upon the representation of the fellow that he was a deputy sheriff, and intended using the rig for official purposes. He has not shown up since, so Thomas proceeded to the Sheriff's office to collect his little bill, only to learn that he had been victimized, and that the young fellow was a fraud.

Blerne, who is now defunct, was an occupant of the hospital in the month of May, 1893. During his stay there he gave to the defendant a check on the First National Bank of Pomona for $1067.

This money was drawn by the lady and a small portion of it used to pay Blerne's board and lodging, but no accounting has ever been rendered for the balance. The suit is brought to recover $1067 and interest from May 24, 1893.

Wilson Will Case Resumed.

The everlasting Wilson will case, which was continued over from last week, came up for hearing yesterday, before Judge Clark in Department Two. The time was largely consumed in distening to testimony introduced by the proponents of the mony introduced by the proponents of the will, who are endeavoring to prove that Mrs. Wilson was of sound mind and fairly exemplary habits up to the time of her death.

The witnesses examined were J. F. Johnson, R. F. Lotspich and Mary E. Cur-

SAN DIEGO, May 28.—(To the Editor of The Times.) It is a refreshing stimulus to the patriotic manhood of the nation to read the decision of the Supreme Court in its refusal to countenance, the acts of the ruffian Debs, and his ruffianly followers, by upholding the opinion of the Circuit Court, which condemns Debs & Co. to a term in jail. These impudent violators of the law and intruders upon the domains of hardworking, peaceable citizens, after full judicial consideration, are now told to take their medicine. Debs is a kind of parasite born of the evil socialistic tendencies which have drifted to us with the mass of European seum which this nation has good-naturedly allowed to land on our shores. He is of the lik that endeavors to control unthinking laborers by uttering fallacies concerning seconomic laws with a view to arousing discontent, rioting, bloodshed and terrible disaster. Absolutely selfish in his motive for thus agitating workingmen. Debs and his ruffian crew, when failure comes in the wake of their agitations, calmiy views the infliction of hardships upon the millions misled by him, in the form of hunger in the families of the men he has excited, and is seriously concerned in saving only his own skin from the reward he so richly deserves. The outcome of the decision by the Supreme Court will be a happy one if it teaches these labor demagogues the lesson that they personally will suffer whenever they incite citizens to disorder. Debs, with his foreign assassination methods, will never find the people of the United States grateful for his presence. His contaminating influences is repulsive to patriots, and only the high regard for law and order of the mijority of the masses has kept Debs' & Co. from paying for their indiscretions with their lives. Such creatures as Debs are more distasteful to patriotic citizens than Benedict Arnold, for Debs never hesitated to trample the nation's flag under his feet.

Southern California Theosophists are very mad at Prof. Elliott Comes of the Smithsonian Institution, who has been investigating theosophy. He says: "My compliments to the Theosophists of North America, or as many as can be found, and I want to give them some sound, wholesome advice. First, those who wish it can remain fools: second, let them set unremain fools; second, let them get unfooled if they can: and, third, turn fakers, if they must. These three heads sum upall I can say to guilible, easily-duped people, who have been influenced by Judge, a spychological bunco-steerer who keeps a bucket-shop of wisdom in New York city.
I have investigated the question of theosophy, both in its psychological and ethical aspects, and the conclusion I have reached it that it is a vile, wicked humbug." Prof.

Scarcely a week passes in which some person does not turn up who is bumming his way around the world on some asserted his way around the world on some asserted big wager that he will do it in a certain length of time, and sometimes in addition that he will collect so much money on the road. This style of beating one's way is road. This style of beating one's way is something of an improvement over the methods of the brake-beam tourists, but it is getting very stale and rather tiresome. Of late even the "coming woman" has gone into this line of business. It takes a good deal of faith in human nature to believe that there are so many people back East who are ready to wager thousands of dollars upon the feats of individuals, when they can never ascertain whether when they can never ascertain whether those feats have been properly performed or not. The globe circler has got to be as much of a "chestnut" as the bridge-jumper and the forty-day faster, whether he starts with a paper suit and a cent in his pocket, or with a dozen trunks full of clothes and his pockets full of first-class

THE FEAST OF WEEKS.

The Annual Jewish Festival Was Be-

The Jewish feast in commemoration of the giving of the tablets of stone to the Israelites was celebrated by Rabbi Blum last evening at Unity Church, with ap-Until ropriate services.

The church was desorated for the festirue church was decorated for the feetival with flowers and green branches, and the hangings were of white satin, fringed with gold, the curtain covering the ark of the covenant being embrodered with the double triangle, or crown of the law, centaining the seroil of the law, and the ark sites teng surmounted with a representation of the stone tablets lettered with mid.

senation of the stone tablets lettered with gold.

After the service of prayer and scriptural reading, Rabbi Blum preached a brief, but eloquent, sermon upon civilization and humanity, as being the essence of the ten commandments, and outlined the progress of humanity in the cultivation of sympathy and loving kindness, from the days of the refined and intellectual; but heartless ancients, down to this wonderful age, when the universal brotherhood of man is an actuality.

The rabbi closed with a prayer for the soul of the late Walter Q. Gresham. The music was exceptionally fine, soles being given by Mrs. Orr Haralson, soprano, and Mrs. J. H. Scarborough, contraito Miss O'Donoughue asting as organist:

LENTZ IN HARD LUCK.

Did Not Get Out of Town Quick Brough.

The chain-gang escape, J. G. Lentz, who was recuptured, was given from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. yesterday to get out of town, with the penalty of fifty days' additional time in the chain gang it found inside the city limits at the tatter hour. Lentz begged for a few days' time to fix up the grave of a dead child of his, but the court suspected that his real object was to see Laliu Dorman, the cocaine flend, who is now in the County Hospital, and whose "mac" Lentz was reputed to be. The court's surmise appears to have been well founded, for a telephone message from the County Hospital after 2 o'clock, stated that Lentz was hanging around there. The petrol wagon was sent ufter him, and by 5 o'clock Lentz was again behind the bars, and will have to serve his sentence. Lentz is one of the trustles who engaged in a brutal fight in the kitchen of the City Jali a few weeks ago. For this he was thrown into the chain gang, from which he escaped.

city Hall has evening to further the plans. J. B. Lankershim presided and W. R. Teale was chosen secretary. A domittee on permanent organization was named, comprising Ferd K. Rule, George Reef, Jr., J. F. Francis, J. T. Thompson and J. A. McCusker. This committee will meet Thursday evening, and report progress at a general meeting to be held Friday evening.

Adit, Gen. A. W. Barrett and Gen. Allen were present. The former said that he believed the State would furnish arms and accourtements for the new company, but most likely would not provide the uniforms and horses. This little difficulty will be bridged over by the company providing its own clothes and live stock. Mr. Lankershim said he would funds for equipping the troops.

Departed Comrades.

At Elk Hall last evening, Stanton Post, G.A.R., and the W.R.C. connected with it, held a service in memory of the six comrades who have died the past year. Thomas J. Carran, Charles B. Mulholland, Charles Baker, Theodore C. Pierce, Holden G. Cook and Charles H. Howland. Commander W. S. Daubenspeck presided. The regular ritual for the occasion was read, the post responding. After a song by a quartette, Mrs. Grace Lawrence, an army nurse, made an address on behalf of the Woman's Relief Corps. Mrs. Thomas, president of the W.R.C., made a short address.

Mrs. Jennie Young sang "Lay Him Low," and Miss Edith Doke gave a recitation, "The Whistling Regiment."

The hall was draped with flags, and in front of the piatform were six empty chairs, fasterfed together with a rope, draped in black, and wreathed in smilax.

The May Festival.

The May Festival.

Last evening proved to be another successful one for the large number who attended at Turnverein Hall. The impromptu concert that was organized by volunteers was enjoyed. This evening will be a gala one at the festival, as an elaborate programme has been projected, in which Miss Davis and Thomas Rowan, Jr., will assist. They will be well supported by others, and an entertaining evening may be expected.

"When your system is thoroughly poisoned with malaria every organ of the body becomes inactive." so said the doctor.

After leaving the doctor I called on a neighboring druggist. I asked for a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. He did not want to sell it. He tried to sell his own. He told me many things which my sense of reason dictated were not strictly correct. I made him wrap up a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, for I refused his substitute.

PASADENA.

CHOOLS OF VICE THAT SHOULD BE INVESTIGATED

An Excellent Rendering of Gounod's Redemption"—Entertainment by the Ladies Maccabee— Street-car Service.

PASADENA, May 28.—(Special Corre-pondence.) Mention was recently made a this column of the streets as a school spondence.) Mention was recently made in this column of the streets as a school of vice, where the young are corrupted and initiated into crime. There are other and even more dangerous hotheds of iniquity is Pasadena, which should be rooted out of the community, and the guilty persons who harbor, encourage and maintain them should be severely punished. On the second floor of the First National Bank building, at the corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street, is a frowsy set of rooms, that, to all outward appearance, are respectable enough. In the daytime the casual visitor who should happen to open the door would see nothing unusual, except an unusually dirty pair of rooms connected by folding doors, and furnished ecantily with a few old chairs, a screen and a couch, but approaching a door at the left of the rear room he would hear scraps of conversation referring to "the deat," "my money on this," and other phrases that would rouse his suspicions. At night a large number of boys from 14 years upward go up the stairs and enter these rooms, and then they reek with smoke, profanity and the slang of the streets, and the "game" is plaved until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. That the "joint" is permitted in a building of such respectability makes it all the easier for the lads who frequent the place to go there in the day-time without arousing the suspicions of their friends, but at night there is little concealment of the purpose for which the rooms are maintained, and any lad with time without arousing the suspicions of their friends, but at night there is little concealment of the purpose for which the rooms are maintained, and any lad with money in his pockets who happens to fall in with "the gang," can gamble as long as his funds last. Whether there is liquor sold in the place cannot be learned, for no one who frequents it will betray that secret, but there is certainly liquor procurable not far away, for more than one young man has been known to go up those stairs sober and come down under the influence of drink. The officers of the law cannot proceed against the place until a complaint has been made against it, although they know of its existence, and have known of it for a long time. There is no one vice, perhaps, more demoralising to young men, then that of gambling, and it is a matter for surprise and indignation that such places should be permitted to exist unmolested and carry on their nefarious business. This is not the only gambling joint" known to the police here, and it is time that some decided means should be taken to suppress this evil, and to remove such temptation from young men.

THE "REDEMPTION."

THE "REDEMPTION."

The second rendition of Gouncd's "Redemption" took place at the Presbyterian Church Monday evening under the direction of O. Stewart Taylor. The orchestra, which was specially selected under the direction of O. Stewart Taylor. The orchestra, which was specially selected under the direction of Arnold Krauss, was supplemented by the grand organ of the church, over which Thomas Wilde presided. The chorus, composed of 100 singers, drawn from among the local talent, presented a very attractive sight on the large platform, to which an addition had been thrown forward to accommodate the soloists. The instrumental music was above reproach, the orchestra rendering its work not only with precision of attack and delicacy of coloring, but with such perfect conception of the artistic requirements of the theme that it was like one instrument played by a master. The organ accompaniment, like all of Mr. Wilde's works, was above criticism. The choruses were admirably rendered, the only fault that could be found being that the shading was not always as accurate as it might have been, yet nevertheless there was nothing amateurish about the rendition. The soloists were Miss Marcia Craft, Mrs. James MacLachian, Miss Norma Rockhold, Henry Elienberger and C. S. Cornell. Pre-eminent among these for artistic appreciation and rendering was Miss Norma Rockhold, who sang with a rich merzo-soprano voice the parts allotted to her with much dramatic power for artistic appreciation and rendering was Miss Norma Rockhold, who sang with a rich mezzo-soprano voice the parts allotted to her with much dramatic power and expression, and exhibited excellent tecknique in the singing of her solos. Miss Craft was somewhat disappointing, for, though her work lacked nghing in brilliancy, it was devoid of the artistic expression necessary for the part. As for Mr. Ellenberger, a just criticism upon his singing would be that the parts he sang were evidently as tiresome to himself as to the audience, and his voice was totally inadequate for them. Mr. Cornell was exceedingly satisfactory, singing with powerful dramatic expression, fine shading and purity of tone. Mrs. MacLachlan also received high praise. The quartettes were raggedly sung and were disappointing, but a trio by the soprano, alto and mezzo was beautifully given.

Mr. Cellander evidently "didn't know it was loaded" this afternoon, as he was showing a revolver to a friend in the First National Bank, where he is employed, but he found out that it was, and luckily the Coroner is not needed for the usual investigation in such cases, for nobody was hurt.
The ball from the weapon was accidentally discharged and lodged in the floor, and several people upca the street near by and in the building were given a fright, but no other damage was done.

STREET CAR SERVICE.

STREET CAR SERVICE.

The improvement in the street-car service has at last extended to the horse-car lines, much to the relief of the people on the east side of town, and now they will have cars every half hour to and from the Junction with the electric lines, instead of every hour as formerly. The electric cars today began their alternate service, to the great annoyance and perplexity of their regular patrons. Why in its inscrutable wisdom the City Council stipulated that each alternate car should run north on Raymond, as well as upon Fair Oaks, cannot be discovered, as it perplexes those who once knew just where to take a car for the city, and now have to unlearn all such knowledge.

SCHOOLHOUSE BIDS.

The Board of Education met this after-to receive bids for the sites of the two new school buildings, and to make, the official count of the school bond election ballots. Twelve sites, at prices ranging from $1300 to $4500 were offered for the East Side school, and four, ranging from $2500 to $3950 for the West Side. The report of the result of the election will be made to the Supervisors in order that they may act upon it at their next meeting, June 2, and the bonds will then doubtless be approved and ordered advertised. Systems of heating and ventilating the new buildings were discussed this afternoon, and it is the intention of the board that in these particulars no mistakes shall be made in the construction of the new buildings.

This giant stem has several thousafid pure white blosoms upon it and is a beautiful specimen of California flora.

Calvin Thornton sustained an injury Monday evening which may prove fatal. He is reported in a precarious condition this afternoon.

Santa Ana will be a prohibition town for Santa Ana will be a prohibition town for at least three days, unless a special meeting of the Board of City Trustees is held between this date and next Monday evening, to approve the bonds of any of the applicants for a license to deal in liquors, under the new ordinance that will go into effect June 1. The liquor men evidently expected the board to repeal the new ordinance Monday night of this week, but the matter was not brought up at all, hence the coming unusual condition of affairs for Santa Ana.

affairs for Santa Ana.

Some of the saloons declare they will close their places of business, as they cannot afford to pay the additional license and tables, while others have already made application for a license and will be on hand Monday evening next with their 32000 bond, so that the license may be issued at once. The license after June 1 will be $300 per year payable yearly, quarterly or monthly.

The city now has six saloons, but it is quite probable that the new ordinance will lessen even this number of some extent.

As the Trustes do not meet again until Monday of next week, the saloons will be obliged to close their doors Friday evening of this week, May 31, as their present dicenses will expire at that time, and the new license cannot be obtained until the board meets again. The date for the next meeting is Monday, June 3. This state of affairs is the subject of conversation today among those who are directly or indirectly interested in the matter.]

It is useless to disguise the fact that yesterday and today have not been such, in the line of weather, as to attract people to the beaches. The wind has come in from the sea in a very eastern fashion, from the northwest, if the paradox may be indulged. Dust and heavier movables have danced a ready attendance upon the Santa Ana which prevailed, and everyone, irrespective of race or coior, is devoutly horing that the species of wind under discussion will not be again repeated during the season.

The multiplication of bicycles and bicycle riders in town is something remarkable. There seems to be a regular epidemic for riding, which includes all ages and all conditions. There are three exclusive dealers in town, and two or three other house carry wheels with other lines. At this hour, 10:30 o'clock p.m., antisaloon. Councilman-elect George H. Waters has just been declared elected a member of the Board of City Trustees, changing the complexion of the board from one of high license to anti-saloon. The move on the part of the anti-saloon rists was one entirely unlooked for and unbeknown to even the leaders of that party, it is alleged, and caused no less excitement among their own ranks than be wilderment to the Councilmen, and complete confusion and routing of the high-license people. Mandamus proceedings to compel the present board to seat Mr. Waters were instituted several weeks ago, and an appeal to the Supreme Court from Judge Van Dyke's adverse decision was attempted, but the attorneys for Mr. Waters, in looking over the undertakings on file in the Council Cirk's office, accidentally discovered an error, which meant a good deal to them, as shown by tonight's result. It was that the undertakings had been filed in Los Angeles before the service of motices in Pomona, and upon laying the facts of the matter before Judge Van Dyke, he saw fit this afternoon to sign a peremptory order upon the Board of Pomona City Trustees to immediately, forthwith, instantly, declare Councilman-elect Waters elected to office, a disobedience of which meant a fine of no less than $1000, or imprisonment for a long term of years.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

AN AGED FRENCHMAN BURNED IN HIS CABIN.

Discovery of the Smoking Remains-Appearances Point to the Com-mission of a Horrible Crime. Search Being Made.

SAN RERNARDING, May 28 .- (Speci SAN BERNARDINO, May 28.—(Special Correspondence.) News of a horrible crime, unfortunate accident or sad suicide comes down today from Cajon Pass, which is fast earning the title of the "Bloody Ground," from the numerous deeds of violence committed on its classis grounds. Last night the cabin of Joseph Colmont, an aged Frenchman of 62 years, who was naturalized last fall, was burned, and on the neighbors visiting the spot this mornnaturalized ast fail, was burney, and on the neighbors visiting the spot this morn-ing they found the remains of the French-man in the still-smoking ruins, the fiesh burned from the bones. The deceased was an inveterate smoker, and always kept burned from the bones. The deceased was an inveterate smoker, and always kept wine in the bouse, and was a constant drinker, and the first idea was that he had laid down in his bed, smoking, failen arleep, and the bedding caught fire from the pipe, smothering the, perhaps, inabiated old man and destroying the cabin. He had at times during the past two years expressed a desire to die, and hinted at suicidé, but as he had just sold out his ranch, where he had lived seven years, to Dr. Davidson, receiving part pay down, and was to receive the balance when he secured his patent under the homestead laws, the idea of suicide is not very tenable. Then, he might have been murdered by tramps or other persons for what little money he had, and the cabin burned to the affair; and that is the fact that this was the scene of the killing of James Medlin by Will. Taber a few weeks ago, and at that time Taber and his wife, Medlin and others were spending the afternoon at Colmont's cabin, and it was just after they had left there the shoother occurred.

was the receive of the killing of James Medilin by Will. Taber a few weeks ago, and at that time Taber and his wife, Medilin and others were spending the afternoon at Colmont's cabin, and it was just after they had left there the shooting occurred. As Colmont probably knew more of that affair than any other person living, excepting Taber and his wife, and though he seemed to give his testimony very reluctantly at 'preliminary examination, evidently in of the consequences, he was relied upon as the principal witness on the side of the prosecution, and his death may make the conviction of Taber impossible. The trial is set for June 20, and on hearing the news this afternoon, Asst. Dist.-Atty. Sprecher started immediately for the scene of the death of Colmont to investigate the affair thoroughly, and he may discover matters that will lead up to something starting.

John Doyle, who lives a quarter of a mile from the scene of the fire, brought the news down this morning. He states that the Frenchman was down at his place twice yesterday, and seemed to be in his usual state of mind, and when a neighbor this morning said the cabin was burned down, he would not believe it, as in that case Joe would have come to him immediately, but they went up to see about it, and found the remains in the still smoking ruins. The deceased was unmarried, and not known to have any relatives in this section. The Coroner has gone up to make an investigation. The scere of the fire is in what is known as Hansen's Canyon, up the Cajon Pass, about fifteen miles from here.

A SUNDAY OUTING.

A SUNDAY OUTING. A party of Highland and E-stern people took an outing Sunday up the canyon at Crafton Retreat, and a drive around the foothins, taking their dinner within hearing of the cascades of the Santa Ana. The party consisted of Messrs. Nye and Seeley of Highaind, with their families; little Seeley, the young ladies: Misses Ora Nye and Frorence Seeley, driving their own pony and phaeton; Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Daley, and Miss Jessie Thomson of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Daley and daughters, Miss Mille and Miss Maud, with Master George and Mrs. E. C. Tompkins of Toledo, O. REPORT ON THE RHIZOBIUS. A party of Highland and Festern people

REPORT ON THE RHIZOBIUS. Horticultural Commissioner H. B. Mus-catt was sent by the Board of Supervisors up to Ventura and Santa Barbara c to investigate the work of the black scale and the effectiveness of the parasite, the famed Rhizobius ventralis, and on his return made a very thorough report of the return made a very thorough report of the work there and in our own county, closing with: 'I regard the results of the recent examination in Ontario, Colton and High- and in our county as highly encouraging, for, while it does not settle conclusively the question of the increase of the parasite, or its effectiveness here, it nevertheless furnishes reasonable ground to hope that the day of our deliverance from the ravages of the black scale is near at hand."

ORGAN CONCERT. A large audience assembled at the Con-gregational Church last evening at the fourth organ concert of the series, at which the principle attraction was the Pomona College Quartette, which was re-called repeatedly after every number, and Miss Dora Cooley, who made her public debut as a pianist, and was very success-ful, especially for a young girl still in her teens.

HIGHER LICENSES.

There is a decided advance in the idea that too many saloons are injurious and that too many saloons are injurious and that enough is just enough, and to that end the Board of Supervisors, to check the growing tendency to have too many saloons have raised the county license from $45 to $75 per quarter, within the incorporated cities, the rate outside being $155 per quarter for a saloon license. An attempt to start two more saloons within this city has brought out a general protest and the Times-Index voices the general opinion, when it says:

"There is a belief that there is no room or demand for the extension of the saloon business in this city, and that the board, in the exactise of its discretionary powers, should refuse all applications for the present, beyond renewals of existing licenses."

BURSTING OF THE HEART. An Old Man's Sudden Death at the Pico House.

An Old Man's Sudden Death at the Pico House.

When a chambermaid of the Pico House went to the room of Charles Woolmer at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, she found the aged occupant lying dead on the floor. The police and the Coroner were hastily notified, and an examination showed that the old man must have died soon after he went to his room, about 10 o'clock the previous evening. He had all his clothes on, and his lamp was still burning, but the oil was very low. In his hand he held a catheter, which he was evidently about to use, when he was evidently about to use, when he was suddenly stricken down.

An autopsy beld at Orr & Patterson's undertaking rooms disclosed the fact that he died of bursting of the heart. The Coroner's Jury rendered a verdict of death from natural causes.

Woolmer was an Englishman, about 70 years old. He came here from San Francisco last August, and was conducting a shooting gallery on North Main street. He has no relatives here, so far as known. An old marriage certificate found among his effects showed that he was at one time married, but whether his wife is dead or living is not known. He was well dressed, and wore Jewelry of considerable value. A Masonic pin showed that he was a member of that order. His brother Masons will take charge of the body and give it respectful burial.

It is believed Woolmer was well-to-do. A receipt in his pocket showed that he rented a box in the safety vault of the State Loan and Trust Company as late as Monday. It is believed papers and other articles of value will be found in this box.

THE MUTES' EMEUTE.

Cook Says Livingston Did Not Swindle Him.

Through the efforts of a faction of dear mutes publication was recently given to a story accusing a certain deaf mute, R. D. Livingstone, with sharp practice. Mr. Cook, the man he was alleged to have swindled, requests The Times to publish the following statement from him, which seems to prove conclusively that Mr. Livingstone did not take unfair advantage of him:

of him:

LOS ANGELES, May 28, 1895.—(To the Editor of The Times:) The article in the Record of last night did great injustice to Mr. Livingstone, and allow me to say that Mr. Livingstone's transaction of the property was very fair and square. In fact, I was misled by Messrs. Reckweg and Tim Faulkner to ruin Mr. Livingstone's character for their own revenge, and I regret it much.

Costumes for Graduates. Costumes for Graduates.

"S.N.S. class of '95" writes The Times in reference to some statements relative to the costumes to be worn by members of the senior class of the State Normal School at the closing everdises. The writer says the class unanimously decided to have two costumes for gymnasium day, which could be secured at the nominal prices of 40 cents and 90 cents each. As to commencement gowns the writer says each young lady will be guided by her own sweet well, and good taste, bearing in mind the oft-repeated suggestion of the faculty regarding propriety and economy.
